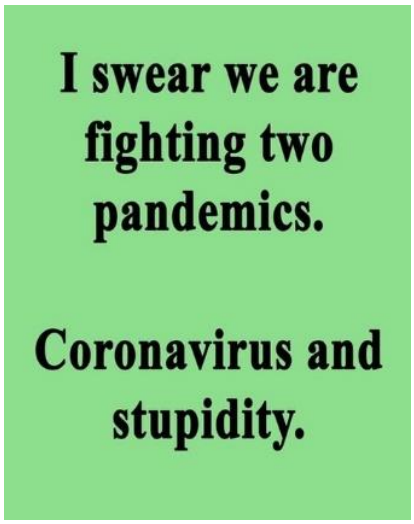
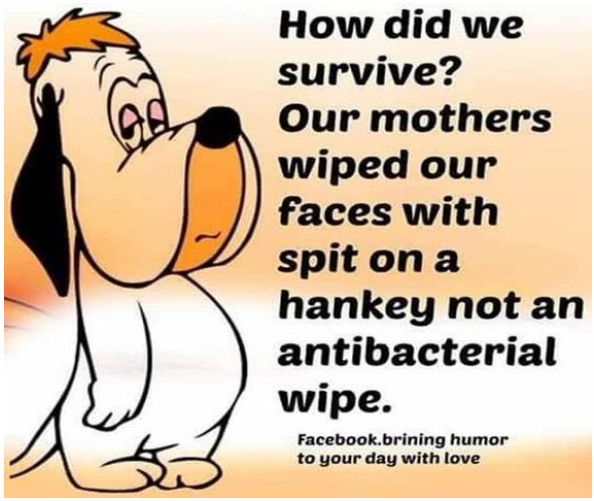
When Mercury is in retrograde, life seems a bit more challenging sometimes.
PMH Atwater seems to be on a one-woman mission to help us lighten our loads. She sent us some lockdown laughs about living in a time of COVID-19.

Hint: I made these images smaller. You may want to make some them bigger to get the joke. Others…not so much.





How did we survive? Our mothers wiped our faces with spit on a hankey not an antibacterial wipe.

Hey sweetie,
I'm at work
Dinner is on the stove,
you only have to light it,
the gas is already turned on.
Love you -xxx-

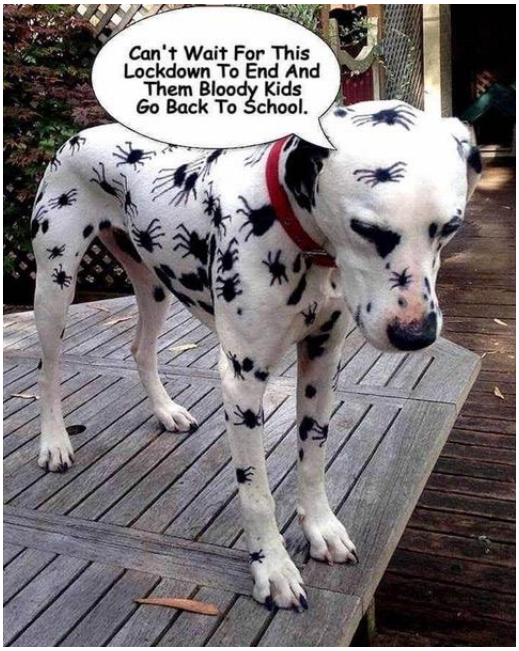
THE YEAR
MY BIN WENT OUT MORE THAN ME



Can't Wait For This Lockdown To End And Them Bloody Kids Go Back To School.

Gardening season is off to a great start: I planted myself in front of a TV four weeks ago, and I've already grown noticeably.

A HOME SCHOOLING
MOM POSTED THAT
HER KID CALLED HER
ON THE PHONE
FROM HIS ROOM
AND TOLD HER
HE MISSED THE BUS
AND WON'T BE IN TODAY.

Quarantine day 58:
I built myself a Doberman

Sorry, did you say something?
That was yesterday...

MY BODY ABSORBED SO MUCH SOAP AND DISINFECTANT LATELY

THAT WHEN I PEE IT CLEANS THE TOILET

On average, a Panda feeds for approximately 12 hours per day.

This is the same as an adult at home under quarantine, which is why we call it a “Pandemic”

The amount of jokes about coronavirus virus has reached worrying numbers. Scientists claim we are in the middle of a pundemic

I washed my hands so much due to CODVID19, that my exam notes from 1995 resurfaced
